

Learning Behaviours

At Farington Primary School, our Personal Development offer reflects the school's vision and values.

Our six 'learning behaviours' support children on their journey to becoming life-long learners and positive members of society. To help children understand these learning behaviours and how they can show them, we have developed the following:

These learning behaviours are at the heart of our Personal Development offer: we have planned a wide range of experiences and opportunities for our children to foster these learning behaviours and ensure that their time at primary school is as enriching for their personal development as it is for their academic learning. These learning behaviours are used within all areas of school life and our children are rewarded and praised when they showcase the use of these. This includes a programme of assemblies, special days, clubs, competitions, whole school celebrations and trips in addition to our already broad curriculum offer.
